A MOTHER'S STRENGTH

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. It is as unwise for the mother, as it is dangerous to the child, to place dependence upon alcoholic stimulation, for strength is not found in alcohol.

JEWETT CITY

Mrs. Ann McCoy, 64, wife of James McCoy, died Thursday morning. Mrs. McCoy was born in County Longford, Ireland, the daughter of Hugh McTierney and Bridget Conlon. She came to this country when eight years of age. She was united in marriage with James McCoy 43 years ago. She has lived the larger part of her life in Lisbon and Jewett City. She was a woman of steadfast nature, always willing to help wherever she could—quiet in her ways, but so reliable that her many friends feel her loss most keenly. She was the mother of three children, all of whom have died. Besides her husband, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Wakefield of Jewett City and Mrs. Bridget McDermott of Versailles. She leaves a niece, Miss Agnes McDermott of Versailles, and two nephews, Jeremiah Riordan of New Haven and Francis Riordan, somewhere in France.

Hallowe'en was celebrated Thursday with more "carrying ones" than ever before. Windows all along the streets were lighted and punks! moonshines were plenty. Over a hundred of the smaller population of the borough paraded about, clad in all sorts of fantastic and grotesque attire.

Mrs. Ceila E. Denison from Utica, N. Y., has come to make her home with her brother, Louis Brouillard, of 58 Main street.

Solomon Paquette, after two weeks' illness with pneumonia, is back at work. His wife and infant daughter have also been seriously sick.

A fine program was given at the Riverside grammar school Friday afternoon in celebration of Fire Prevention day. After the singing of the Star-Spangled Banner by the entire school, there was a grand salute to the Stars and Stripes. Governor Holcomb's proclamation was read by William Smith. Then followed the Do It Club, Miss Bitgood's room. Miss Brown's grade sang Fire Prevention Day: A Soldier's Talk, by Harold Faust. What Home of Our Teachers Say About Fire Prevention; America, by the school.

The ordinance of the Lord's supper will be celebrated at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Robertson will lead the League at 8 p. m. Rev. James B. Aldrich will preach at 7. Subject, The Power of the Cross.

Rev. Albert Donnell will preach at the Congregational church. Subject, Currents in Cedar. The Lord's supper will be celebrated at the morning service at 10. E. A. Geer, Topic, Our Time for Christ.

Rev. Myron D. Fuller will preach at the Baptist church. Subject to the Junior, Bridging the Valley of Slaves. To the senior congregation, God's Workmanship. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.15. Subject, Our Time for Christ. Preaching service at 8. Topic, Choosing a Wife and the Model Husband.

The A. A. Young, Jr., Hose and Ladder company, No. 1, has received two flags which are to hang from the new flag stand at the Daniel Hall-Panning park. One is the American flag with blue stars on a white ground across the top of the flag. The flag set in such form as to spell Griswold. Another part of the flag shows a white panel where silver stars will indicate the number of wounded and gold stars those who give their lives for country, home and freedom. Such a star will commemorate Alphonse Lynch. The flag is 10x15 feet.

In the last overseas mail that arrived in New York Saturday a goodly quantity came to Griswold. One man got six from his son, all written on different days. He says the more the merrier! He thinks the department are doing the best kind of work, and as good as he expects, as all the letters were written in October. In all the last batch is the cheery note of coming home. One boy said: "It's too late to get knocked out now, but not too late to do a little more knocking." Another said: "Nothing had touched him except a little French mademoiselle!" and another said: "I pray for four things—war over, back home, honorable discharge and good old Jewett City."

The last flower of the season is in bloom. It is which based in Maryland, Virginia. It is not common here but it can be found in the woods west of the upper Tadpole pond, now dressed in its yellow. Mrs. Dana says it takes the booby prize. Hunters later when coming in contact with the bushes will hear the snapping of the sticks and cast their eyes upon the bushy shrub. Indians long ago discovered the value of its bark for medicinal purposes. The forked branches formerly served as divining rods in search of water and precious ores. Its extremely peculiar yellow blossom is worth a walk to Tadpole to see.

MOOSUP

George Depathy of Moosup, while in his auto-truck, had an upset while on the curve between Milligan's garage and Sheldon's on the Wauregan road. The steering rod gave way and the machine could not be controlled, completely turning over, the driver being caught underneath the car. He escaped without serious injury.

A large crowd attended the dance at Milner's hall Friday evening under the auspices of the Bachelor Club, the net proceeds going to the Red Cross chapter of Moosup. The dance is about the sixth one given by the committee and was well patronized and carried out. Sibby Ladd and Leroy Boye were Hartford business callers.

Mr. Congdon of Boston was a recent caller on E. E. Dupuy.

Joseph Lavallee of Danielson is home spending the week end with relatives on Prospect street.

A large crowd walked up to Milner's hall Thursday afternoon for the first basketball practice.

A Hallowe'en social was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Allard of Dargette street, about 20 attending. Among those present were Misses Eva Bertrand, Maggie Dupray, Rena and Olga Pichie, Lucy Dupray, A. Bodo, Angey Moureau, Leona and Alice Gauthier, Emma Lavallee, Esther Woods, Blanche Lafleur, Blanche Matthews, Diana and Yvonne Lafleur.

PLAINFIELD

Frank Congdon met with a painful accident the early part of the week while at work in the Lawton mills. Mr. Congdon, who is electrician at the plant, was working near a pipe when he was burned with hot water. His face and arms were badly scalded. He was taken to the dispensary, where he was attended by Dr. A. A. Chase. Later he was taken home.

The Plainfield high school basketball squad held its first practice of the season in the minor hall Thursday afternoon under the leadership of Captain Andy Smith. A squad of about 25 players reported for practice and were started in a drill for about two hours. The material for a fast team is very promising. There are three members of last year's team as a nucleus. Captain Smith, who is first, and Allen and Denison at guard. Joret, who played in some games last year, shows up well at the forward position. While Hopkins plays at guard especially well.

Thomas Lawton, formerly overseer of the carding department of the Lawton mills, now with the Howard & Ballough company at Pawtucket, was a caller here Thursday.

Napoleon Raymond, after a serious attack of influenza during the past few weeks, is recovering steadily.

Miss Mary Burke has been ill in bed, due to a severe throat trouble.

John Nolan and Claire Dawley were in Danielson Thursday.

GRISWOLD

Miss Mary Buck, of Moosup, spent the week end with Mrs. E. A. Geer and called on acquaintances in town.

Herman and Ralph Bitgood were thrown from a motorcycle Sunday morning. Robert Bitgood escaped unhurt, but Herman received many scratches and bruises and his right leg was badly injured.

Harold Geer was in Providence, R. I., Sunday and heard Billy Sunday.

Victor C. Campbell has harvested his crop of large pumpkins, some of them weighing 15 pounds.

Pachanga Grange entertained the New London County Pomona Grange last week Thursday.

Mr. Philip Phipps is ill at her home in Hopeville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Place and son, Oregal, of Rhode Island, Mrs. Love and granddaughter of Sterling, spent Friday with Mrs. E. A. Geer.

Tomorrow (Sunday) being the first Sunday in November, the sacrament will be observed at the First Congregational church.

LEDYARD

A Fellowship meeting of the six churches, North Stonington, Westerly, Mystic, Stonington, Road and Ledyard Congregational churches, will be held with the Ledyard church on Wednesday, November 9th. This is the first in the series and the other churches will have meetings at future dates. The speakers of the day will be Rev. Mr. McNeil of Westerly.

Mrs. Upton and daughter, Gladys, of Norwich, were visitors Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Church.

Theodore F. Taylor is making alterations on his house. A new chimney is being built and many inside improvements are being made.

Work at the Lantern Hill silice mine is booming. Many men are employed there in excavating and laying a new track to connect with the Norwich-Westerly trolley line.

The mail on Route No. 1, Mrs. Sizer wife of the carrier, using very ill with pneumonia.

On the farm formerly owned by Enoch Randall a cherry tree is in full bloom.

Mrs. Butterfield has returned home after visiting in Brooklyn for several weeks.

CHAPLIN

The funeral of Winfield J. Phillips was largely attended at the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock. Rev. Walter E. Lamphear, of Hartford, and Rev. Guy D. Wingard, pastor of the church, conducted the service. Each spoke with tender feeling of Mr. Phillips, for his large-hearted kindness and helpfulness to others, for his cheerful manner and service to others in times of need, which had endeared him to a host of friends who will miss him. A trio, Burton M. Welch, Louis Neff, and Arthur Williams sang: It Is Well With My Soul, and Shall We Meet. The tribute of flowers from relatives and friends, and from the townspeople, was especially beautiful. The bearers

Democratic Candidate for State Senator from the 20th District

THE DAY, Sept. 20:

"The Stonington, Mystic and Naamak fishermen certainly appreciate the work in their behalf of James G. Hammond. When the Navy Department announced its intention of sweeping the waters of Fishers Island Sound with a wire drag net survey, which meant that the fishermen who had their apparatus set in the waters of the Sound were liable to lose a great amount of valuable equipment and to lose the labor of weeks as well as the failure to reap any harvest from the waters. Secretary Hammond got busy right away when the order was announced, dispatching telegrams and letters to the Navy department, Food Administrator Hoover, Senator Brandegee and many others vigorously protesting against this action and pointing out the damage which would result. He was successful in having the work delayed and the lobstermen and fishermen have been able to continue their work. Many fishermen of this vicinity expressed appreciation of the work done in their behalf by the active Secretary."

NORWICH RECORD:

"The Norwich Chamber of Commerce congratulates the New London Chamber upon making so wise a choice in the election of James G. Hammond as its executive secretary. Mr. Hammond will bring to the Chamber a wide experience in all its phases, possessing education and a pleasing personality, a man active in promoting the uplift and civic advancement of his community, an active member of the State Council of Defense, whose record as a war worker is second to none. Secretary Hammond is pleasantly remembered here as the principal speaker on different occasions."

THE DAY, Oct. 9th:

"James G. Hammond, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has received a letter from Charles F. Noyes and others of Mystic asking him to use his efforts to secure, for the benefit of the people residing between New London and Westerly, the restoration of a local train which has been discontinued. The patrons of this train have followed with interest your efforts and success in getting a train from New London to Saybrook, and we trust that you will be as successful in getting a train on this end. Secretary Hammond, with his usual promptness, has started on the proposition and will use every effort to get the train restored."

NORWICH BULLETIN, Sept. 18th:

"James G. Hammond of the New London Chamber of Commerce and member of the State Council of Defense, was the speaker of the afternoon (at the Norwich Fair) and in his short address, straight from the shoulder, told the people in plain English what he thought of Kaiser Wilhelm, and his opinion entirely agreed with that of his audience as they cheered and applauded the speaker."

THE DAY:

"I hope the prediction of that official booster, Secretary James G. Hammond of the Chamber of Commerce, comes true. He is always optimistic and I know he will do his share in making our population reach a splendid figure. Events have already shown that the Chamber made no mistake when it selected him for its secretary. He is making his forceful personality felt in the community and putting good things across is getting to be a habit with him."

THE DAY, July 9th:

"On Monday there will be placed in operation the long looked for and much needed early morning workmen's train service between Saybrook and New London. Secretary Hammond patiently and persistently worked for its establishment. These and many other intricate details necessary in putting over this project have been worked out by Secretary Hammond with the same persistency and stick-to-itiveness that characterized his successful efforts in bringing the Connecticut State Farm for Women and other activities into New London county."

IN SEEKING THE SUPPORT OF REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS ALIKE, IF ELECTED, I WILL GIVE THAT FULL MEASURE OF DEVOTED SERVICE, IRRESPECTIVE OF PARTY, THAT HAS MARKED THE SUCCESSFUL RESULTS OF MY PAST ENDEAVORS. I AM NOT A POLITICIAN, KNOW NOTHING OF THE GAME, WITH ME IT HAS BEEN, IS NOW AND ALWAYS WILL BE THE INTERESTS AND NEEDS OF MY DISTRICT FIRST. THROUGH YOUR SUPPORT AND MY ELECTION YOU ARE SIMPLY INCREASING MY HORIZON OF USEFULNESS IN SERVICE TO YOU, THE POLITICAL POLICIES AND PARTY DIFFERENCES OF OTHERS BEING OF FAR LESS INTEREST TO ME THAN THE DEVELOPMENT AND PROGRESS AND FUTURE OF MY DISTRICT.
